Research into sex, drugs and murder has revealed that they are also a strange species of human being. Dr Johnny Summers, with the intent of redeeming himself, sets out to track down the murderers that he deems responsible for the death of his wife. He arrives at a ranch in sunny Southern California and learns of its owner a man named Milo who has made his fortune in the illegal drug trade. Milo is adamant that he has never done anything to hurt anyone. He says that his only mistake was the one that led to the death of his wife, but he is willing to pay for the mistake as a way to atone for his past. This will be an extraordinary journey where Dr Johnny Summers will team up with the owner's son, the ranch's general manager and the other employees. This shocking new show is an attempt to move beyond the predictable format of most detective dramas. A Mad Scientist Explains Murder is a unique and refreshing spin on the genre. Premiere Date: Sept. 2018
